A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory'"; they ARE NOT, for they all counterfeit, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

GOVERNMENT TESTS.

The Royal Baking Powder Declared Superior to All Others.

The fact that Royal Baking Powder is, in all respects, the best baking powder offered to the public has been established beyond question.

Prof. H. A. Mott, who employed by the U. S. Government to analyze the various baking powders of the market to determine which was the best and most economical, after an extended investigation, reported in favor of the Royal, and it was adopted for government use.

Prof. Mott has continued his examinations of baking powders until at the present day, and now affirms it as his deliberate judgment, arrived at after most thorough research, and a careful examination of the principal brands of the market, that the Royal is unhesitatingly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public. Prof. Mott, in his recent report says:

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the U. S. Government.

"I will go still further and state that, because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is unhesitatingly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.

Kirk's White Cloud Floating Soap.

Copyright, 1897, by Jas. S. Kirk & Co.

A Few Things That We Know.

We know all that is to be known about the different white soaps in the market because we have accurate analyses of every one of them.

We know that White Cloud Floating Soap is the equal of any European product with the advantage of being specially adapted to the waters of this country.

We know that White Cloud has no equal in America—not one. Not one so pure, so white, so good for bath, toilet, and laundry.

We know that we are able to stand by these statements and we make them deliberately, advisedly.

THE NEW NOVELS:

A New Story by F. Marion Crawford.

MARZIO'S CRUCIFIX.

BY

F. MARION CRAWFORD,

Author of

"Mr. Isaacs," "Dr. Claudius," Etc.

Price, $1.25.

"A novel of much strength, unity and symmetry of structure that is worthy of the author's high place in fiction. Constance is one of the most natural and attractive girls ever drawn by a writer of that gentleman."—Boston Journal.

"'Marzio's Crucifix' is one of the exceedingly good stories of which, taking it with novelty and originality of character."—London Academy.

"This book is one of fashion but appeals only but to interest to the thoughtful, privileged few who wish to invest entertainment accordingly with a little of romance."—London Athenæum.

"The workmanship of 'Marzio's Crucifix' discloses in a great of symmetry of a study of character, a characteristic coloring. It is certainly one of the best of Mr. Crawford's writings."—New York Times.

"This story is one of the best this clever author has yet published, and it is a book which will add to his already extensive reputation."—Boston Courier.

"Mr. Crawford's new book is much more a study than a story, and it is a very clever study, too. 'Marzio's Crucifix' is, as a whole, good and commendable work."—New York Tribune.

"This picture of fashion, life and characters that undoubtedly have existed many years, is vivid, realistic and readable all the same. The scene is the Roman artist's studio and Roman aristocratic drawing-room, and the author is at home in the work as delightful as the dramatis of the author's reference."—Boston Journal.

FOR A HOLIDAY PRESENT

These are volumes to prize very highly.

A FIRST NOVEL.

THE NEW ANTIGONE.

A Romance.

Price, $1.25.

"The anonymous author of 'The New Antigone' has not, perhaps, taken the public altogether into his or her confidence, . . . but the reading of this romance of considerable skill. . . . This book is full of psychological study as to the heart of modern women, men, and circumstances. . . . It is not overdone that the story is the work of a new and welcome writer. The style is serious, but thought-provoking, there is no unpleasantness barred to people of the character which enhances the value of the work. The author's study of personality may be worthy the pen of a Hawthorne."—New York Tribune.

"Written with marked ability and unusual skill. It contains the most extraordinary combination of three very dissimilar characters, and as both in the main and shows how utterly inadequate they are to satisfy the deeper cravings of human nature."—Cincinnati Academy.

"It is well to assert that this book is not the production of a 'popular' book. Its every page is interest and scarcely from the exhaustive depth and felicity of the style. . . . It is a book which not only tests the reader's imagination but appeals to his subtler perceptions and forces him to think."—Cincinnati Gazette.

By the Author of "Rogue, R. P."

ISMAY'S CHILDREN.

BY

The Author of "Witness Thereto, and the Conclusion," "Rogue, R. P.," Etc.

Price, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.

"The true writing has been saved from the fate that befell so many of the fancy productions—their extreme crudity. Even that of Miss Edgeworth's finer stories, as well as those of Dickens and the Miss Brontës, and with a literary grace and charm which makes us not grateful."—Mail and Express.

"The story is one that speaks of the power to express of circumstantial facts, and is one of considerable strength and truthfulness."—Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

"A novel as delightfully sympathetic and as artistic and graceful in anything which came from the pen of Thackeray."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

NEWS, PLACES, AND THINGS

By Whitelaw Reid, LL.D. Cloth, gilt, $1.50.

From the Boston Home Journal: "As a delightful book to while away an hour, or to read and re-read, it is hard to find its equal. . . . Mr. Reid's style is charming, and his subjects are treated with a graceful ease that makes the reading of them a pleasure."

From the Boston Transcript: "A volume of essays on English and personal subjects, by Whitelaw Reid, will be welcomed by many readers who have enjoyed his letters from abroad."

From the Boston Traveller: "Mr. Whitelaw Reid has collected in a volume a number of his essays and addresses, which will be found very interesting reading. . . . The book is a valuable addition to the literature of the day."

From the Boston Post: "Whitelaw Reid's 'News, Places, and Things' is a collection of essays and addresses which will be found very interesting reading. . . . The book is a valuable addition to the literature of the day."

An Entertaining Story

BY RUTH OGDEN.

ILLUSTRATED BY W. SACHSE.

Quarto. 144 pages, cloth.....$0.75

"A fascinating juvenile story, charming in its spontaneous delightful in its humor, and pleasing in its every aspect. The author's style, in its simple straightforwardness and its easy flow, appeals directly to the understanding of intelligent youngsters. The book is a model of what school fiction for the young should be. There are very many illustrations by W. Sachse, spirited and able in drawing and effect, and of exceptional excellence generally. The story is peculiarly in pleasant contrast to the low jingle stuff for which it was written."—Boston Sat. Eve. Gazette.

"A very attractive book for young readers."—American Union.

"Cannot fail to attract and hold the attention of youthful readers. The little people who live and move through the pages are excellent companions for the best of children, and the artist has so assisted the author in depicting them that one may almost hear the ringing of their voices and see the color across their healthy little cheeks."—Philadelphia Press.

"It is a sweet and sunny book about a little boy, Reginald, heard by an accident, who was left by his adopted parents, while they went to Europe, in care of 'Queer' Jolly, at one Captain Gurney's, on the Jersey shore."—Literary World.

THE SMOKE ORDINANCE.

The object of this advertisement is to call the attention of the moneyed conservative public to the following array of FACTS. No City in America is growing as rapidly today as is

— DULUTH —

The volume of its business and commerce is now that of a city of 150,000 people, and increasing with incredible swiftness. The city is fairly forced to grow to keep pace with its business. The climate is healthy and delightful, the average winter temperature for fourteen years being 13 deg. above, and average summer temperature for the same time 63 deg., being a mean of over 40 deg. The Society, Churches, and Schools are of the best.
